FlexRight Solutions™ is now offering a weekend ONLY online live streaming Oracle Database Administration (DBA) and Oracle Certified Professional (OCP) training program for interested students and professionals. Oracle continues to be one of the most popular relational database management system (RDBMS) software programs in the IT industry today. It can be found on every version of UNIX, most versions of Windows, and a variety of other platforms. This program prepares you for the Oracle Certified Associate and Certified Professional exams.

Oracle DBAs and OCPs are responsible for the design, implementation, support and maintenance of computerized databases, including architecting, building capacity and scaling databases for future data growth. They are also responsible for the security, performance and availability of data to users and customers in the BIG data world of the 21st century. The Oracle GoldenGate 12c: Fundamentals for Oracle modules continue the learning by focusing on Oracle-to-Oracle database replication. Our expert Oracle instructors will deep dive into the Oracle GoldenGate architecture, walking students through various product features.
